Amarillo School Prefers Amarillo To Canyon Print

After the unfortunate highway accident last spring which took the lives of six persons, three from the Amarillo public schools, the school board vetoed any further printing of the Sandstorm in Canyon, where it had been printed for six years by the Canyon News. The staff protested this action of the board and the paper was allowed to continue publication in Canyon, receiving the highest rating possible in a national contest.

However the board ruled that the Sandstorm must be printed in Amarillo this year, regardless of the fact that it was costing double the price paid in Canyon.

The printing is being done in a small plant in Amarillo, without necessary equipment, and the quality of paper is far below the standards of past years, states school officials.

The Sandstorm has always published a large edition in honor of National Education Week. Because the paper is unsatisfactory, school officials last week asked to return to Canyon. The matter was presented to the school board.

Again the Amarillo school board vetoed the change and again ordered the printing done in Amarillo.

In other words, business firms of Amarillo want all the business that they can get from Canyon, but are unwilling for their schools to buy printing in Canyon at half the price being paid in Amarillo.

Homecoming Is Successful For W. T. Saturday

The annual Homecoming of West Texas State was a most successful and enjoyable affair in spite of the cold, damp weather that prevailed.

In the parade were 112 units, part of which are pictured on this page. These units which included six bands and 39 horses, made a colorful and impressive sight for the large crowd which lined the sidewalks.

First place in the judging went to the Olympic and Varsity Theatres, second place to the W. T. Aggie Club; third to the Randall County 4-H Club. Judges were Dr. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Irene Parker and Jack Haley. Ted Reid was in charge of the parade.

More than 6,000 persons were fed at the barbecue on the campus following the parade, which was in charge of Milton Morris. All members of the faculty assisted in this annual event.

Dr. Lee Johnson, secretary of the Ex-Students Association issued a statement Monday highly praising the co-operation of the citizens of Canyon, the students and faculty in making this a great event. He called upon the citizens of Canyon to start now to plan for a monster celebration in 1950.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and J. L. Dufflot last weekend were all their children and grandchildren. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Kendrick, Michael, Dion and Kevin from Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dawes, Joe, Bob, Jim and Martha of Big Spring, and Dr. Leo Dufflot, who is doing graduate medical study in Galveston. Dr. and Mrs. Kendrick and family will be here for a few more days.

Englishman Gives High Praise to Palo Duro Canyon

Eric Weiland, English world traveler, author and lecturer, spent Sunday in a Palo Duro Canyon. In company with park officials he hiked and rode horseback over a wide area of the park.

The world traveler has spent many days hiking and camping in the national parks of the United States and his comparison of the Palo Duro Canyon with such major attractions as Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon and Zion National Parks was heartening to Palo Duro boosters.

In typical English accent he declared at the end of his day: "Most interesting, most interesting, your Palo Duro has a greater variety of colors than any of them. Perhaps it is not so big as Grand Canyon nor does it have such grotesque natural carvings, shall we say, as Bryce, but by Jove it has a beauty and personality peculiarly its own. I shall boost it wherever I go as one of the places on the globe that any well informed traveler must see."

Mr. Weiland says that in many places over the world some little known spot rivals or excels so many of the highly publicized attractions. He is concerned also with the habit Americans have of rushing pell mell from Coast to Coast never stopping to see the attractions offered just off the main routes.

Miss Mary Ann Bellah, who is teaching at Eunice, New Mexico, was here for the Homecoming weekend visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bellah.

Mrs. Crews Henry attended District P-TA Board meeting at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo last Saturday. Mrs. Henry is District Publicity and Publications Chairman.

Miss Virginia Wilson was here over the weekend visiting. She is teaching at Lovington, New Mexico.

No Licenses in Randall County For Marriages

No, we have no marriage licenses in Randall County issued this week!

The reason: The new marriage license law which became effective in Texas on October 6, which requires that both the man and woman have a complete physical examination, including a blood test, before the license may be issued.

Clovis reports a flourishing marriage business since the new law became effective. Young couples are driving from all over the Panhandle to Clovis for their marriages.

Several years ago Texas gave this new law a similar test, and had to back down when practically all couples went to New Mexico for their marriage because there was no delay in issuing licenses and no physical examinations required.

Two Drowned in Rough Waters of Buffalo Sunday

Two more persons were drowned in Buffalo Lake Sunday afternoon. The bodies were not recovered until early Monday morning.

I. W. Hanson, 36, of Panhandle and a nephew, Jerry Hanson, 11, were the victims. Another nephew of the drowned man, Boddy Douglas, 14, of Plainview, hung onto the overturned boat until help arrived.

Hanson and his nephews were out in his speed boat. The waves were reported high, and in making a turn, Jerry, who was driving, cut too sharp and a wave overturned the boat.

A family reunion with 35 people attending, witnessed the tragedy from the shore.

Glenn McKenzie, concessionaire and all employees soon arrived at the spot of the drowning, and together with firemen from Amarillo worked all night in a vain effort to recover the bodies while there was a chance for recovery.

A Griggs - Warren ambulance brought the bodies to Canyon where they were claimed by the families of the victims, and were taken to Panhandle for burial.

Water at the point of drowning was about six feet deep.

Rodeo Club Affiliates with NIRA; Plans for Show Next Semester

West Texas State should be well represented at all the intercollegiate rodeos in the Southwest this year with the organization and election of officers of the WT Rodeo Club, ten men who will represent this college wherever there are rodeos during the present school year.

This is not an entirely new thing on the campus, either. Last year during the spring the members decided to bid for recognition in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, a newly formed club for rodeo enthusiasts throughout the nation. They were admitted last spring. There are, besides West Texas, 28 other colleges and universities throughout the country which are members of the NIRA, with the WTexans one of the charter schools.

The purpose of NIRA is to spur interest in student rodeos in colleges in this section of the country, and with that, to hike up competition in that field with other colleges.

The Rodeo Club here has been invited and plans to attend, as their first show of the year, the Texas A & I College Rodeo, November 11, 12 and 13. After that, said one member, it will probably be next spring before they are entered in another show.

But during the spring, the Rodeo Club has planned an intercollegiate show of its own. During the past, the T-Anchor Rodeo has been for students of this college only, but the one next spring, as planned now, will include colleges in this area which wish to participate. It will be an NIRA sanctioned show.

Biggest thing of the year for the members of NIRA is the National Intercollegiate Rodeo, held every year in the Cow Palace in San Francisco. This, to rodeo performers, is similar to the Rose Bowl in football. Only the best teams in the nation are called to compete in the big show.

Last spring the West Texas team was invited to attend the San Francisco show, but none of the members

Up through the long centuries the common man has struggled against old and well entrenched powers and ideas. On June 15, 1215, the barons of England met King John at Runnimeade and wrested from the hands of the king his "divine right" to do as he pleased. It was the beginning of the day of human rights as over against the rights of kings and of priests; men would not rest till they had opportunity to rule themselves. Finally a nation was established in which every man should have a voice and a vote to determine his own affairs.

Again the struggle was on when women rose with the demand for the ballot. Before World War I, there were only four nations in all the world where women had the right of the franchise. August 26, 1920, the sixteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States gave our women the same high privilege of voting that men enjoyed.

A woman is casting her ballot, symbol of man's arrival at a high estimate of the common man and woman. No single act so well typifies our advance through the thousands of years in which men have inhabited the earth.

But what are you doing about it? How regularly do you cast your ballot? The right to vote is also the duty to vote. The long struggle for human rights has miscarried when you and I do something else on Election Day which keeps us from the polls. Every man who throws away his opportunity to vote is unworthy of the heroic souls who suffered to give us the privilege. Every woman who excuses herself from taking time to vote betrays the cause of Woman's Suffrage.

Ours then is a high duty to vote. Vote for conscience' sake; vote for humanity's sake; vote for justice' sake; vote for the sake of the community; vote for the sake of the nation; vote for your own sake. Vote as you think and believe; vote for good men to rule us; vote for high causes in which we shall share; vote to determine how the affairs of the town shall be conducted. The ballot is our weapon against every evil thing which threatens the body politic. Use it under God; it is your divine right.

Dean Walter Juniper Gets Dunked at West Texas State

Proof more positive than can be told in words! You're supposed to wear western clothes during western week here—freshman! And it was with this smile that Dean Walter H. Juniper went plunging into the horse tank Wednesday morning at exactly 10:11 o'clock. The phonograph records? "Oh," Dr. Juniper grinned, "I had just been given some old phonograph records to add to my collection, and was so elated that I forgot all about the western outfit I was supposed to wear, and which, by the way, I bought some weeks ago."
He plans to use those records on his weekly half-hour show, "Jukebox of Yesteryear," starting on KGNC, Amarillo, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 6. "But," queried one student who witnessed the dunking, "won't the water hurt those records?"
"Oh, no," replied the jovial dean, "they're all over 30 years old, and needed a bath anyway."
It was with a great deal of ceremony that Dr. Juniper was dunked in the trough, to officially open the western week here. With two paraphrases on famous speeches, he added before going to the doom of all non-conformers, "I regret that I have but one life to give for the advancement of scholarship at West Texas State." And, just before the plunge, said in typical Shakespearean manner, "If it must be done, it were well to be quickly done." And it was!

Up Will Go Wages; Up Will Go Prices As Result Strikes

The steel and coal strikes were likely to be settled before the end of this week because of the critical nature of coal and steel.

What will happen? Your guess may be as good as ours, but here is the way we have it figured it: The government will take over the coal mines and the steel mills; increases will be allowed in wages; and up prices will go; prices on both coal and steel.

It seems that both the owners and the workers are willing for the government to step in and boost wages and prices.

NEWEST THEORY

Quarantine Out in Polio

NEW YORK.—Among the many new theories being adopted about polio, the latest one is that quarantine does no good in halting the spread of the disease.

It is of "unproved value," declared a committee of 20 authorities on all phases of the malady. Its effects may be bad rather than good.

"Enforcement of unwarranted quarantine regulations may create or enhance public fear or hysteria in epidemics, waste the time and efforts of professional personnel and facilities, and produce needless social and economic hardships for patient and family," says the national committee on recommended practices for control of polio myelitis.

This stand on quarantine is one point of a new polio control guide now going to health officials in all the states and territories.

Rules Vary Greatly

"It is intended as a sensible approach to control practices, based upon the facts about polio as we know them now," said Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, director of medical care, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was a member of the committee, and his office is distributing the new guide. States are requesting copies by hundreds and thousands.

"State and local authorities vary greatly in their rules on polio isolation and quarantine," he said. "But recent findings indicate that certain restrictions imposed in the past are not supported by the facts. It is hoped that areas hampered by useless restrictions will change them according to the new recommendations."

Numerous localities have tried quarantine, even to trying to keep visitors out of their town. But such steps didn't do anything to halt the spread of polio. The mere posting of polio-quarantine signs proved frightening. Doctors and health officials, busy treating sick people or arranging for their care, had an unnecessary burden thrown on their shoulders.

Opposed to Closing

"Close association with infected persons accounts for the great majority of new cases of polio," the guide says. But research suggests this contact has to be really in time, extending over a period of time. The home appears to be the most common place for the spread of polio.

Theaters, circuses, fairs, swimming pools, or beaches should not be closed if they are properly operated, it adds.

Public and private schools should not be closed during a polio outbreak nor their opening delayed, for such acts "have not affected the course of outbreaks of polio." They only lead to panic.

WHOSE?

"Did you ever long for death?" asked the soulful, dyspeptic young man of the practical young woman. It was the fourth call he made on her that week, and she was weary. "Whose death do you mean?" she asked, in a dry, discouraging tone.

MATTER OF CHOICE

"When your father was courting me he always kissed me on the brow."

"Harold usually kisses me on the steps," replied Evelyn, absent-mindedly.

USO Campaign Is Upset By WT Homecoming

"Randall county now has 51 young men and women serving in the Armed Forces, and through the medium of the USO we here at home have an excellent opportunity of seeing to their welfare and maintaining strong ties with them wherever they are," Milton Morris, County Chairman of the USO's reactivation campaign, reports.

"We will as good Texans look after our own whether they are foreign or in this country or on foreign soil," Mr. Morris said, "and the USO provides us with the opportunity we need, for it will continue as it did during the war to provide our young men and women in the Armed Forces with a home away from home."

The County Chairman added that this county is being asked to contribute $475.12 as its share toward the $500,000 campaign fund in Texas for the reactivation of the USO as requested by the President and the Secretary of Defense. Due to the rush of Homecoming events no campaign was put on that part of the week.

While several contributions have been received, the amount turned in to Mr. Morris, the First National Bank and at the News Office is not enough to meet the quota. All citizens are urged to make their contributions this week.

Devaluation of European Money Brings Problems

Britain's devaluation of the pound has been followed by a period of watchful—and in some cases, anxious—waiting to see just what the result will be. Directly after devaluation, in the words of the Wall Street Journal, "Price changes for everything from Dunhill pipes to black pepper were announced—or gossiped. The basic commodity markets trembled, retailers began taking a new look at British products they've been scornng as overpriced, and even the man in the street showed a spark of interest."

Whether this country will now be flooded with British goods of low price and high quality remains to be seen. In some instances, such as motor cars and chinaware, the price cuts may be very substantial—25 percent or more. Other goods—such as Scotch whiskey—are so influenced by taxes and tariffs that it is doubtful if prices to the consumer will materially change. Raw commodity prices—wool, fats and oil, and so on—will probably decline only moderately.

The unknown factor lies in what the attitude of the British people and particularly British labor, will be toward devaluation and its consequences. British labor—and this is also true in varying degrees of labor in all the Western European nations—has been growing increasingly restive under conditions of strict austerity and low pay. Indications are that widespread demands for wage increases will soon be made. Yet, as Walter Lippmann has written, "The crucial issue . . . is how to reap the benefits of devaluation without suffering all the pains. The benefit of devaluation is to become solvent. But devaluation in itself will not balance accounts unless the painful fact is accepted or imposed that real wages must fall." If this view is correct—and it is difficult to argue against it—a critical impasse is in the making.

If British export prices go down, she must sell more goods to get as many dollars as she is earning now. She must greatly increase production if she is to increase her dollar credits. But, if the cost of production goes up because of higher wages or any other factor, she will be in the same position as she was before devaluation—she won't be able to sell enough as prices will again be too high.

Walter Lippmann's pessimistic conclusion to his article is worth repeating. He wrote: "The devaluation in itself is only relief, like lancing a boil without curing the infection . . . The devaluation has registered but it cannot liquidate the continuing crisis which is the aftermath of the wars, the revolutions and the disorders of this dark and barbarous century."

Mrs. E. P. Harding visited in the Dwayne Roberts home in Dalhart last week. She brought her two-year-old granddaughter, Letha Lee Roberts, home with her to spend two weeks.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 7 GO ON HIKE AND COOK OUT

Troop No. 7 of the Canyon Girl Scouts began their fall activities with a hike last week. At the end of the hike they enjoyed a cook-out.

Those attending were Patsy Vandergriff, Lila Mae Hunter, Lura Neil Prichard, Mary Louise Hunter, Ann Holt, Virginia Holt, Roberta Grigsby, Camilla Davis, Nancy Bolton and Mrs. Higdon, troop leader.

"THE DOOLINS OF OKLAHOMA"

This is the latest in the screen's recitation of the exploits of notorious bandit gangs of the old West. Bill Doolin, in the person of Randolph Scott, becomes angry when his friends, the equally notorious Dalton brothers, are killed and he becomes an outlaw. He organizes his own gang and plays hob with banks, etc., until George Macready, as a Federal marshal, catches up with him and gives him the works.

Virginia Houston has the role of Scott's wife and Louise Albritton is visible for romance with the marshal. Others in the cast include John Ireland, Noah Berry, Jr., Dona Drake and Robert H. Barrat.

Changes in Physics Have Been Rapid In Past Few Years

W. R. (Bill) Wilson, Assistant Professor of Physics, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on his work at the college, making an interesting vocational talk on physics. the day. Symbols are being changed, and terminology changes from day to day. "Science has its beginning in restlessness," stated the speaker. Physics plays a very important part in our every day life. A well known inventor stated that his products were "old ideas in new harness." The mechanical devices which are in common use today are the result of applying the laws of physics.

The atomic bomb was termed the "greatest gadget of all the gadgets." Its principles were known before the war, but it took physics to bring all of the principles together. The speaker stated that every person should know something about physics. Electricity, light and sound are the every day subjects. Teachers of the subjects are wondering how they may make the subject less technical and more attractive to students. The difficulty is to find students who are willing to dig for facts. . . Too few are willing to use their reasoning powers and memorize the facts.

Dr. R. A. Nehlett introduced Dick Bivins of Amarillo, who is a candidate for the State Board of Education in the November 8th election. Ray Campbell presented Bill Hall as a new member, and Crannell Toller presented Neil Cooper as a new member.

The following were visitors: Dr. Leo Duflet of Galveston; James McGregor of Perryton; J. B. Hardman of Plainview; E. Galbraith of Kerrville; Elmer Wooten of Canyon; Charles Rogers, Dick Bivins, E. Kancher, Forrest Barnes, Joe Morris, W. W. Rusk, Earl O'Keefe, Ken Bell, Ted Neeley, Spencer Baird, Earl Kromer, John Oakes, Arch

Former Local Doctor Died at Tulia

Dr. J. Ed Crawford, 78, died at Tulia Friday.

Dr. Crawford practiced in Canyon from 1901 until 1907, operating a drug store in connection with his practice.

He went from here to Dallas, back to Silverton and then to Tulia in 1915 where he practiced until 1939 when a heart attack made it necessary for him to slow down and limit his practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Johnson and Ann were weekend visitors in Canyon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Odom. They also visited other friends while here. The Johnsons are now living in Paducah where he is with the United States Soil Conservation Service.

For the first time in the history of West Texas State, the 1949-50 Student Directory has been printed without advertising.

President James P. Cornette stated that he believed this booklet should go into the hands of the students as a service of the college, rather than an advertising medium. The directory was completed Tuesday by the News for distribution among students, members of the faculty and business firms.

Golden Anniversary Tea Honors G. W. Webbs at Cox Home Sunday

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox on Fourth Avenue, was the setting Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, for a tea and open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. The spacious rooms were decked with arrangements of mums in white and yellow. In the entry hall was a large basket of white mums and white gladioli were featured on the small table. Center attraction in the living room was the attractive arrangement of white mums on the mantel clustered around a miniature bride and groom under an arch which read 1899 in gold letters, and yellow and bronze mums topped the grand piano.

Guests were served by candlelight from a lace covered table centered with yellow roses and flanked on either side by white candles in crystal holders. The mantel in the dining room held an arrangement of yellow mums in which was centered an arch of 1949 bearing golden wedding bells. Yellow and bronze mums on the buffet flanked by white candles in crystal hurricane lamps, completed the floral decorations in the serving room.

In the receiving line were the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson, and Mrs. D. A. Shirley.

During the tea hours, a soft musical background was furnished by Mrs. C. H. Jarrett, Miss Marion Miller, and Mrs. Bill Black.

Mrs. Gene Root, Mrs. Levi Cole and Mrs. Gus Miller registered the guests at the guest book. Approximately 175 guests called during the tea hours.

During the afternoon Miss Mary Jo Tomlinson, Mrs. J. F. Watson and Miss Annette Pond presided at the crystal punch service, and Mrs. Kermit Pond, Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson and Mrs. Ray Campbell served the cake. Others in the house party who conducted the guests through the Cox home were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Oliver.

Mrs. Carroll Souther of Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb, was the only one of the immediate family who was able to attend the tea. Their son, G. F. Webb who is general passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Lines in San Francisco, Calif., was unable to come.

The Webbs received many lovely gifts from their numerous friends. Displaying the gifts were Mrs. D. R. Weaver, Mrs. W. T. Oliver and Mrs. J. B. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb were married in 1899 in Quanah. During their fifty years of married life, they have lived in Quanah, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Dimmitt, and have lived in Canyon since 1926. Mr. Webb was with the railroad for 27 years, working for the old Fort Worth and Denver, Santa Fe, Rock Island and the Mobile and Ohio. You May Favor, or Oppose the 10 Amendments—But Vote

Perhaps a number of Randall county voters are wondering which of the 10 constitutional amendments they shall support when they go to the polls on November 8. The subjects of the amendments are so varied that it is probably very hard to sift out the amendments which are necessary.

We are giving you our ideas about the amendments—Not that our ideas are any better than yours may be, but we have arrived at the following decision regarding the amendments after attempting to find out just what the various provisions cover.

No. 1. Civil service for county employees. This affects only counties having 75,000 or more population. If this civil service is good for the big counties, why does it not apply to the small ones? Our observation of civil service leads us to believe that employees take advantage when they cannot be fired upon a minute's notice, but must be tried through the red tape of civil service. We vote no.

No. 2. Is the famous amendment which provides for monthly payment of $300 per member to all members of the legislature, starting January 1st, payable in advance. It likewise calls for an annual session of the legislature, which is entirely needless. We certainly vote "no" on this amendment.

No. 3. Creation of hospital districts. There is a safeguard which allows the people of the proposed district to vote upon themselves a tax for the support of the district. However, judging from the indifference of voters in such special elections, we wonder whether it is wise to give such authority to any legislature. Where there is authority to do something, someone always turns up with a bright idea of putting over the job. It is a scheme to increase taxes. We vote no.

No. 4. Repeal of poll tax payments. While we have always been opposed to payment of a poll tax merely for the right of voting, Texas has as well get in line and repeal this provision before Congress does it. The difficulty is that this amendment provides for a registration system, with no limit for the fee of registration, and no exemptions as to age. In other words, in order to vote in future elections, you must register, regardless of your age, and must pay a fee. Now just what is the difference between payment of a poll tax, which gives you the right to vote; or payment of a registration fee, which likewise gives you the right to vote? Maybe we had better go ahead and beat Congress to the draw, but personally we would prefer to see the legislature more specific than to pass this loosely drawn amendment. We vote no.

No. 5 provides for county-city health unit. This allows the legislature to submit to a vote of the people the proposal of taxing themselves for such a service. We see no reason for jumping into such a program in view of the determined efforts in Washington to pass socialized medicine. We certainly need better health facilities, but we will probably be getting a worse brand out of Washington domination.

No. 6 provides for retirement and pensions for county employees. We are opposed to this scheme. Just why pensions should be given to county employees, who accept jobs with the county because these positions pay more money than the employees can secure in private employment is hard for us to understand. When we reach the end of our usefulness, no one is going to pay us a pension. This same thing applies to a majority of the people in Randall county. We vote no.

No. 7 provides that district court sessions may be held in some other place in a county than the county seat. While this applies at the present time to only a few counties in Texas, it might apply to more counties in years to come. The best feature of this amendment is that it regulates, to some degree, the qualification of district judges. At the present time any one can run for district judge, regardless of his lack of law knowledge. It would be very hard to imagine a district judge who was not a practicing lawyer, and this amendment attempts to cure an existing defect. We cannot see how such an amendment could hurt, and it might be a good thing.

No. 8 is approved by fire prevention bodies. Rural districts may be formed, levying a tax for support of a rural fire department. Since the Panhandle is sparsely settled, we cannot conceive of the amendment ever being favored as a local provision. A chemical truck would be the only practical manner of fighting rural fires. If the rural people want this amendment, they will have to pay the bill.

No. 9 provides for lunacy trial without a jury. On the face of this amendment the provision looks good. If the person to be tried believes that some one in his family is trying to railroad him into the state hospital, he may demand a trial by jury. Those cases which we have attended are rather pathetic, and should be held in secret, rather than in open court with a jury. It is worth giving this a trial.

No. 10 seeks to qualify women to sit on juries. While we have no objection to this reform, there are some handicaps. If the women really want to sit on juries, well and good. Those who will accept this as a patriotic duty should get out and work for the amendment. The men will probably vote pretty much like the women demand. As we see it the courts are in pretty much of a mess in Texas, and brightening up with a touch of feminine will not hurt. But each of the 254 Commissioners Courts must remodel their jury rooms at once in order to provide separate housing for the juries, if this amendment carries. We would like to hear from the women for publication next week, just before the election.

No Taxes; No Taxes; No Taxes; Is Cry of Caso March

Caso March is marching along all by himself in his so-called race for governor of Texas, his third trial. Caso has a new slogan: "For every man, a tax-free home."

That sounds pretty good; BUT, who is going to support our schools, our state government, our city, our county?

The only fair tax is the one imposed upon the other fellow—not upon ourselves. That is exactly the way too many people look upon taxation.

When Pat Neff was running for Governor and deploring the high cost of government in Texas, Lee Satterwhite met him and told Neff that regardless who was elected Governor that he would sign the largest tax measure ever passed in Texas. Neff was elected, and signed such a bill.

Don't be fooled by all this cheap talk.

The intelligence of the human race has about reached the point where we do not expect anyone to look for the end of the world because the calendar count will soon be 1950.

Jurist and Criminal Lawyer Believe Our Laws Are Okay

We note that a member of the Court of Criminal Appeals has spoken in Dallas praising the criminal laws of Texas, and the practices which have been followed by his court. He is one of the judges who reversed a drowning case because it was not charged that the victim was drowned in "water;" and reversed another case in which it was not charged that the victim was stomped to death "by feet."

The criminal laws have been under fire for months by able jurists all over Texas due to the fact that they favor the criminal, and do not protect the public.

We have a letter from a well known criminal lawyer who upholds the criminal laws of Texas as being fair and just, and defends the criminal lawyers. Law-years have a legitimate right to defend any criminal who digs up the cash. Our objection is that the courts and the lawyers have produced such a complicated system that the juries never get all of the facts, and cannot act intelligently upon any criminal case which is tried. Most juries are trying to do the right thing by society, but they are grossly handicapped.

Our opinion is that all of the adverse criticism is bearing fruit, and that justice will again reign in the courts. If the seat was not getting hot, why should a criminal court judge and a criminal lawyer be hollering so loudly.

Big Cities Are Bleeding the Small Towns of Their Area

The County Wide News of Littlefield published a strong editorial protest against the practice of Littlefield people patronizing peddlers from Lubbock who are invading that city. According to that paper trucks from Lubbock ply over the South Plains, getting business for Lubbock.

The main difference between the North and South Plains is that Canyon people and those from other North Plains towns run to Amarillo for their merchandise. Amarillo merchants do not have to run trucks. Our folks simply go after the merchandise, usually without asking at home whether or not they can buy in Canyon, or Claude, or Panhandle, or any other good town in this section.

Building Amarillo and Lubbock at the expense of Littlefield and Canyon is a poor business proposition.

Hundred Years, or Thousand Makes Little Difference

Americans do not understand the mind of the East. We are in a hurry to get things done in this country.

When Japan invaded China we were told that the Chinese would win, even if it took a hundred years. Those people adopted a long range program.

Now we are told that the commies will never take China. Regardless of the men and money being poured into China by Stalin, it is predicted that the Reds cannot take China. The natives will win, even though it takes a hundred or a thousand years.

The tragedy of China is that the money and material which we sent to help Russia defeat Hitler, and the provisions which we furnished the Nationalists to defeat the Reds are now being used by the Red forces to defeat the Federalists, who are supposed to be our friends. Yes, and German and Russian military men are on the side of the Reds, directing the Red forces.

Now that cold weather is just around the corner, the people who have been complaining about the heat are beginning to balance their views.

The right to think for yourself is important but there are so many citizens unable to separate their emotions from what one might term justice.

The institutions of learning that are more concerned with the football eleven than the progress of students are more numerous than one might suppose.

Two soldiers from distant parts of the nation who were stationed at Gainesville during the war were strolling down the street one night. They paused in front of a book store which had an entire window filled with copies of a single title.

One slowly read the name of the book, "I Give You Texas!"

The other replied, "I'll give it right back to you."

A civilian standing on the curb a few paces away, refrained from identifying himself. He was the author.

Another time, I did not identify myself, either.

It was this way: A friend living in another town wanted six copies of "I Give You Texas!" for Christmas gifts and he wanted them autographed. So I hid myself to a book shop, took six copies from a stack and was waiting for a saleslady to wrap them up when a customer came along, picked up one of the copies, glanced through the pages, then said to me:

"Have you read this book?"

I wanted to say, "Yes, ma'am, and it's really terrific!"—but refrained from modesty; and, besides, this was in Fort Worth where I live and probably the next moment some friend would have come along and called out, "Boyce, old boy, how's the book going?"

So I replied, "Yes ma'am; in fact, I wrote it."

She looked at me, then looked at the book, again at me, and said, "Well, I believe I'll take a copy anyhow."

Buffaloes Make Homecoming Event a Great Success by Touncing the Visiting Trinity Team, 55-20

The rusted iron bell, hanging on the south end of the bleachers at Buffalo Stadium, tolled the victory theme Saturday afternoon to the satisfaction of 6,000 ex-West Texas State students, the student body, faculty and press, as the West Texas State Buffaloes dosed out a merciless 55-20 beating to the Trinity University Tigers.

It wasn't that the Tigers were so bad, but the Buffaloes fired with homecoming spirits and out to break a four-game losing streak, just couldn't be stopped.

Tom Airhart, a sophomore Canyon fullback, sparked the Buff attack, scoring four of the eight touchdowns amassed by the Bison. Charlie Wright of Canyon trotted over two and little Bill Cross and end Roy Dunn got one apiece. Also playing a top role in the Buffalo scoring was Automatic Junior Melton who converted seven times from placement on eight attempts. The one he missed was by a hair.

Trinity's big wheel was Gerald Levermann, a 200-pound tailback, with Ed Mattson and Herb Falkenburg coming in for their share of the tasty gridiron morsels. But all said and done, it was the Bisons' day and they didn't waste a bet.

The phenomenal Airhart was the ground-gaining wizard, lugging 11 times for a total of 150 yards with one 56-yard carry for a touchdown called back on a Buffalo rule infraction. Little Bill Cross, the Canadian Comet, carried only three times before he was forced to the sidelines with an injured knee. But on those three carries he picked up 84 yards, and he, too, had a 66-yard gain called back and the Buffs penalized for offside.

The other potent ground gainer on the Bison squad was, of course, Wright. The Canyon junior carried 16 times for 131 yards.

Making possible the Buffalo offensive stampede was the line play that shadowed anything shown by either the Buffs or their opponents all season. For the most part, the Bison backs had holes the size of a small truck through which to navigate on their long gains.

Defensively, the Buffalo line was just as potent. Levermann, the Trinity back who was touted as being every bit as good as McMurry's Rowland, was held to a net gain of three yards on the ground. It is doubtful if the hefty Trinity back would have been in the game at all, had it not been for an accurate passing arm that threw more passes than a big league pitcher delivers in a World Series game.

Levermann passed 32 times, completing 17 for a total of 304 yards against the Buffs. He handled the ball on practically every play the Tigers ran and passed at least twice in every series of downs.

First downs failed to show the Buffs' strength. They collected only 19 of the "begin again" signs with Trinity getting 17.

Gene Mayfield, the Buffs' passing quarterback, had a good day in the backfield with his passing, throwing three touchdown passes and his play-calling and ball-handling was superb. Melton, the Buffs' other quarterback, also had a good day, engineering three Buff tallies in addition to counting seven of eight extra-point attempts.

Coach Frank Kimbrough was a satisfied man with his Buffaloes' performance Saturday afternoon. The West Texas head mentor had every right to be proud. Breaks had figured all season in four bitter defeats suffered by the Buffaloes. But Saturday they made their own breaks and were unhesitant to capitalize on them.

The win which highlighted a two-day homecoming celebration at West Texas State College was witnessed by over 6,000 West Texas Exes, the entire student body and Buffalo followers of many years. It warmed a chilling unless afternoon to nominal temperatures.

The halftime ceremonies were conducted by five Panhandle high school bands — Borger, Phillips, Canyon,

McLean and Dumas—plus the West Texas State Buffalo band and Rosey Bates and his Giamourettes. The six colorful bands welcomed the Exes by spelling out HI EXES and greeted West Texas State students with WESTEX.

The Buffs started off like a house afire and ended the same way. They led 14-0 at the end of the first quarter and 28-7 at halftime. They scored three more times in the third period to lead 48-7 and Kimbrough cleaned the bench in the fourth period as Trinity scored twice and the Buffaloes counted again for the final 55-20 score.

An oddity in college football was the two for three drop-kicking of Dick Hauch, Trinity back. Hauch placed two of his drop-kick tries squarely between the uprights.

The Buffaloes can rest on their Homecoming laurels for two weeks now as Saturday they have an open date. They move to Flagstaff on the succeeding Saturday to do battle with Arizona State on November 5.

The Buffs can use a rest after their all-out stampede Saturday afternoon.

Early Care of Eyes Often Prevents The Danger of Old Age

Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the eye, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses during a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of any person, whether young, middle-aged, or older represent one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," the State Health Officer asserted. "To take care of them properly is a responsibility which never should be sidestepped."

Eagles Hit Blackhawks Next, Overcome Demons, 27 to 13

Squad Edges Past Dumas To Triumph in Last Half

Next week the Eagles journey to Phillips where they will meet the determined Blackhawks, who sported a spotless record until spilled by Dalhart. They will be primed for action.

Last week the Canyon Eagles trounced the Dumas Demons, 27-13, after trailing at the half, 13-7. Eagle quarterback, Garland Butler, passed for two of the touchdowns and plunged for one himself, while completing five of nine passes attempted.

Early in the first quarter Dumas trekked 60 yards to take the lead.

The Eagles not to be outdone took the kick-off, and also marched 60 yards to score, with Butler taxing the ball over from the one-footer. Butler also ran the extra point over.

The Demons drove to the Eagles' 40, where after an exchange of fumbles, McKown ran wide around his own left end for their second and last counter. The kick for the point was good, and that closed the scoring for the first half.

Eagles Catch Up
The Eagle offense and defense caught fire the second half. Demon quarterback, Ray McKown, tried to kick from his 18, but Eagle left guard, Bill Hall, broke through and blocked it. Barrett took the ball over the center of the line to tie up the score 13-13. The pass for extra point was not good.

In the third quarter Canyon drove 80 yards and then Butler tossed a TD pass to Slack in the end zone. Landon Barrett, halfback, plunged over for the extra point.

After an exchange of punts, Canyon again started moving and powered 70 yards before Butler passed to Bruce Winn in the end zone for the marker. Joe Abbott, now playing fullback, took the ball over the middle for the conversion.

Robert O'Donald intercepted a Dumas pass on the Demon's 30 yard line, and the Eagles were moving goalward again at the end of the game.

Dumas fumbled twice and Canyon three times, while Canyon piled up 312 yards to the Demons 194.

HAVE PIGGY, PIGGY

The most revolting sight on earth is a teen-ager making like a pig while he's eating. There he sits, gobbling to beat the band to the accompaniment of his own slurping and smacking. Really, it's hard on a person's digestion just hearing it, let alone watching it. In fact it's hard to swallow anything to be digested. Just think what some big shot educator or even a little shot visitor would think if he walked into a cafeteria full of pigs in human form.

It is just possible that he would receive the impression that we are a bunch of sloppy, uncultured, roughians, and what is worse, tell other people so.

We all know we don't want a reputation like this, and we all like to enjoy our meals, so let's cooperate just a little bit and give our school an air of refinement. What say?
By M. M.

ACCIDENTS

A steel bar had to be cut through to release Jo Ann Thompson, second grader, when the seat in which she stood up snapped to imprisoning her, last Friday.

The same day Lila Mae Hunter of the eighth grade fell while playing basketball and broke one of her front teeth.

CHS Classes Elect Favorites for Year

Katie Furlow and Wayne Prichard head the list of class favorites this year. They were elected by the senior class last week. Wayne has been a member of the class since 'way back yonder. He is president of his class' this year, was FFA Prince Charming last year and was one of the regular squadmen on the football team until old age got him. Katie joined the class ranks this year. She has attended summer school at W.T. for the last two sessions which enabled her to do four years in three.

Ruby Lee Bonds and Billy Carl Morton are next in line as junior class favorites. Ruby Lee will be remembered for being sophomore candidate for Hallowe'en Queen last year and manager of the white side of the magazine campaign two weeks ago.

Billy Carl Morton has been plugging away at regular assignments with the other members of his class since nobody knows when. He is assistant manager of the football squad this year which within itself is a job to keep one busy.

Sophomores have not elected favorites as yet, but probably will at the next class meeting.

Favorites for the freshman class are Barbara Glanton and Tommy Middleton. Barbara was eighth grade candidate for Hallowe'en queen last year. Tommy is on the B football squad and has attended Canyon schools for some years. These two will no doubt keep finding themselves elected to certain honors as they plod from class to class.

Mrs. Ed Weeks Honored With Birthday-shower, Wednesday

The seventh grade honored their sponsor, Mrs. Ed Weeks, last Wednesday, at their class meeting by a miscellaneous shower.

The gifts were placed in a box covered with purple and white paper. Purple and white mums and dahlias were brought, the day before, to be used. A birthday cake was baked and brought by James Miller.

Mrs. Weeks says, "They were so sweet about it all, they didn't even put candles on my cake."

By the way, a gold lavalier necklace and ear screws to match was the gift Mrs. Weeks received from her husband and daughter.

Here 'tis kids . . .

The Varsity theater had the honor of entertaining Mary White and Red Whitten who hails from Portales, New Mexico, the other night.

These freshmen certainly do have things cooking around here, among those doing the cooking are Coy Black; W. M. Thompson, and Roy McCarter. Rumor is they are all looking for dates. This is the chance of a lifetime girls.

Freshman Harold Dean Johnston has a big crush on Shirley Erwin, a high and mighty sophomore. Blond hair and blue eyes always get the men. Huh, Shirley?

Charles Donnell and Charles Lindsey are willing to date any and everybody. Some guys!

Looks as if this Stanley Schaeffer, Geneva Gressett romance will go on forever.

Stags Garland Butler and Golden Currie of WT High, took in a show together. There's two more "golden opportunities."

Letters from Kenneth Cox of Fort Davis, Texas, keep Bobbie Sue Gressett's heart a-flutter.

Also from Fort Davis are the letters Lucille Schelmut received from Bob McCallie.

Gossip has it that Mary Sue Rice and Wayne Cope like each other.

Dates for the Friday night game between Canyon and Dumas were: Carlene Rogers and Donald MacDonald, Doris Keller and Jimmy Montgomery, and Peggy Bonds and Tommy Middleton.

Who is that good looking junior from W.T. that you've been "seeing," Lynn McKinney?

Taking in the cinema Saturday night were Nelda Ruthart and Ray Burrus. Ain't she cute, Ray?

At the show Thursday night were Shirley Dixon and Travis Payne.

Another boy from W.T. has been going with one of our girls, Betty Slagle to be exact. We can't say for sure who the boy is right now, though.

Giving the 7th grade that feeling of romance are Howard Lundegreen and Rita Jo Crow, Duane Retherford and Helen Myers.

A more fickle seventh grader is Dewey Gollighugh who likes 'em all. (As long as they are girls).

Dorothy McReynolds was attending the Varsity theater Sunday night, with an ex-student, Billy Cleavenger, of WTSC.

Britain Makes Pictures for 'Soaring Wings' of 1949-'50

Pat Britain moved his camera equipment up to the high school last week, thus enabling CHS to have pictures made more conveniently for this year's "Soaring Wings."

Students were taken by classes. The seniors, juniors and sophomores pictures having been taken Tuesday. Freshmen pictures were made Wednesday. Leftovers were taken along with the eighth and seventh grade. Those absent the other days had pictures taken Friday.

Each person will pick the pose he prefers and it will be given to the annual. Students have the privilege of buying a number of the pictures if they choose.

Three hundred twenty-five class pictures have been taken for the annual. Last year 861 pictures filled our yearbook besides the snapshots.

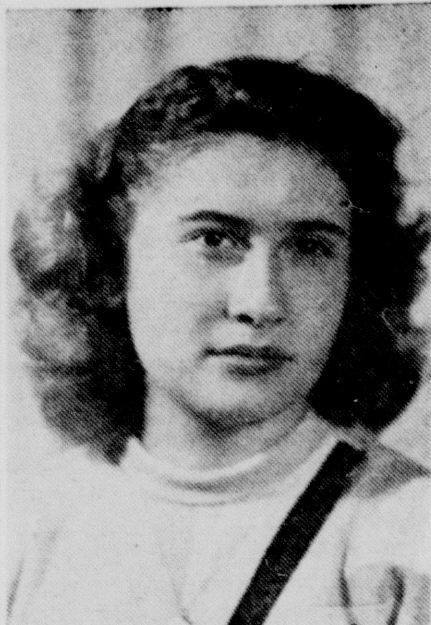

One hundred forty students have already subscribed for the 1949-'50 yearbook.

The grade school classes will have individual pictures in the annual again this year.

Mrs. Cecil Simms was absent from school Monday and Tuesday due to the serious illness of her mother in Lubbock, Texas.

Mrs. A. K. Knott has been out of school due to illness for several days.

FFA Sweetheart

Donna Erwin

A light-brown haired, brown-eyed senior, Donna Erwin, is sweetheart of the Canyon chapter of the Future Farmers of America for 1949-50. Donna began her school career in the first grade in Canyon Grade School and will be graduated from Canyon High this spring. She is well known among her class mates by her pleasant personality, friendliness, and ever-ready smile.

Honors attained by Donna during her high school years are: FFA treasurer, member of the Spanish Club, and, and a Capella Choir, her freshman year; FFA Area vice-president and president of the local FFA chapter, Choral Club secretary, and class favorite, her sophomore year; and her junior year she was FFA parliamentarian, FFA sweetheart attendant, Band Club president, junior Who's Who, and junior play. This year she is FFA song leader and co-editor of the school annual, "Soaring Wings."

Runners-up in the election are Bobbie Gene Ford, senior, and Anita Ruthart, junior. Bobbie and Anita were Donna's attendants as she rode in the WTSC Annual Homecoming Parade last Saturday. Harold Martin, of WT High, drove his maroon Pontiac convertible, in which they rode, accompanied by Robert O'Donald.

Qualifications for this honor are: the girl must have passing grades in all subjects, have attended CHS for at least one year, and must be a sophomore, junior or senior.

Sixth Grade Students Visit Amarillo Industrial Plants

Sixty-three sixth graders, who are working on an industrial unit in social studies, and their sponsors, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Veal Iverson, visited industrial plants in Amarillo last Thursday. The firms visited are: the Panhandle Fruit Packing Company, the Coca Cola Bottling Co., the Newman Baking Company and KGNC radio station.

At the Panhandle Fruit Packing Company the plant manager gave the source of the fruits and vegetables, and showed methods of packing them. The products came from Central and South America. Some few came from parts of the United States.

At KGNC the announced, J. B. Linn, introduced the class over the air. Helen Hood and Faye Lowery played piano solos. Mr. Linn asked Billy Harrison and Jerome Edwards to assist him in reading his commercial over the air. The class found the radio station extremely interesting.

"We wish to compliment the children on the good citizenship shown by all members of the class on the trip. We also wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the bus drivers, Claude Foster and W. J. Phelps, who assisted us in guiding the children across the streets," say Mrs. Iverson and Mrs. Davis, sponsors.

A reception, sponsored by the cheerleaders, followed Friday night's football game with Dumas. Chaparones were Mrs. C. O. Elkins, Mrs. Gladys Samples, and Mrs. Spurgeon McDougal.

Queen Candidates Are Named

Grade Notes

A tea for the room representatives was given Wednesday in Mrs. Collins' first grade. Signing the guest book were: Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. R. L. Biffle, Mrs. D. A. Prichard, Mrs. G. E. Gibson, Mrs. Bob Bellah, Mrs. A. G. Davis, Mrs. Joe Carver, Mrs. Jimmie Burkan, Mrs. J. C. Bales, Mrs. T. C. Westfall, Mrs. Elmer Walls, Mrs. Joe Hales, Mrs. T. M. Thurmon, Mrs. James Jennings, Mrs. Doreen Welch, Mrs. Tom Platt, Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. R. C. Henry and Elva Fronabarger.

Betty Jean Miles has withdrawn from this class.

Teas seem to be the thing of the day. A get acquainted tea following the Hallowe'en scheme, highlights the activities in Mrs. Black's first grade. Hostesses were: Mrs. Roy N. Byrd, Jr., Mrs. Elmer Winters, Arthur L. Chambers and Mrs. Erwin Meyer. Others present were: Mrs. O. M. Lundegreen, Mrs. E. F. Welch, Mrs. G. H. Gidden, Mrs. B. C. DeLano, Mrs. D. N. Bailey, Mrs. T. J. Russell, Mrs. Joe Winstead, Mrs. Archie Davis, Mrs. J. O. Moore, Mrs. F. J. Hause, Mrs. James LaCour, Mrs. W. E. Miller and Elva Fronabarger.

A new pupil, Donna Russell from Mountain View, Oklahoma, has been added to this class.

These teas are sweeping the country like wild-fire. A Hallowe'en tea for the mothers was given in Mrs. Rasco Davis's second grade Wednesday. The purpose of this tea was to get better acquainted and make plans for the year. Refreshments of hot spiced tea and Hallowe'en cookies were served to the following: Mrs. G. J. Bonds, Mrs. J. D. Barker, Mrs. Edwin Cackey, Mrs. Morris Abbott, Mrs. R. O. McKay, Mrs. Hampton Lisle, Mrs. Jim Cabe, Mrs. E. H. Harrison, Mrs. Jack Singleton, Mrs. Tyson Shelton, Mrs. C. J. Hughes, Mrs. Kay Neiden, Mrs. E. A. Oberst, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Howard, Mrs. Doyce Shepherd, Mrs. Wilford Taylor, Jr., and Elva Fronabarger. Hostesses were: Mrs. Jesse J. Rasor, Mrs. C. R. Nester and Mrs. O. W. Parker.

Have you ever seen an Angl fish? No? Then hurry right over to Mrs. Usery's third grade room and take a look. They have only recently added these tropical fish to their aquarium.

Joan Dodson, who hails from Clarendon, is a new student in this class.

All was hustle and bustle in Mrs. Brasher's fourth grade last Friday. They were making preparations for a visit from Mrs. Cousins' fourth grade to a meeting of their nature study club.

Speaking of clubs, a Literature Club has been organized in Mrs. Cousins' fourth grade. The officers are: Barbara Hutton, president; Arthur Lee Pruett, vice-president and Rhett Plank, secretary. The club held its first meeting Friday, which consisted of a program of poems and stories that had been prepared by the children.

Mrs. Cousins has donated the money that was given her room by A.A.U.W. for Walt Disney's books for the library.

Norman Pierce has withdrawn from this class and moved to Tulsa.

Charles Neblett, president of Mrs. Jones's fifth grade, has appointed a card committee to handle all the post-cards used in their studies. The committee consists of: Ronald D. Crow, Dee Zane Pond, Annette Meyer and Panetta Marshall.

Mrs. Walsh's fifth grade was entertained Friday by Jimmie Reed, who played his guitar. This fifth grade has decided upon the Fish Pond as their booth for the Hallowe'en carnival.

Anna May Flowers has been away for two weeks in Hedley.

R. C. Miles has withdrawn from Mrs. John Davis's sixth grade.

Spooks To Roam Hallowe'en Night

Spooks, ghosts and black cats will road at large next Monday night! Yes, it is Hallowe'en, and according to CHS tradition a carnival more vast than ever will be staged.

Among the booths to be operated are: bingo, by the seniors; cake walk; juniors; dunking vat, FFA; marriage booth, sophomores; queen's booth, journalism; fortune telling, FFA; confetti selling, eighth grade; the lemon tree, seventh grade. The grade school will also operate their traditional booths. Among them are: ring the duck; target range; grab bag; fishing booth; wishing well; ball throwing; pop-corn ball selling and various others. Cake, pie and coffee will be sold by the members of the PTA, while the VFW will sell hamburgers.

The greater number of booths will be located as usual in the grade school gym, but others will be housed nearby.

The crowning of the queen will conclude the evening's activities. It will be held in the high school auditorium and will begin promptly at 9:45 o'clock. Janie Meyers and Darlene Westfall from the first grade will be flower girls and will precede the queen in the coronation ceremony. Robert Ray Henry and Roy Neal Byrd, first graders also, will carry the crown and the queen's gift, respectively. Jo Parker, editor of the Eagle's Tale, will be mistress of ceremonies, and other journalism students and members of the annual staff will assist in the ushering and the program for the evening.

Society Sue

As I sat dozing in Homemaking, thought of fashion reeled through my mind.

Corduroy is the big word in fashion at the present, CHS students have gone all out for it.

Joyce Thurman has a peach corduroy dress, made princess style, that is really outstanding. Barbara McDougal tried out for cheerleader in a blue corduroy jumper, worn with a classic white blouse.

A brown corduroy suit trimmed with white stitching makes Melva Martin look charming.

Joann Haines has a grey corduroy jumper that she wears with style. Corduroy isn't the only thing that's being worn, Mickey King came to school wearing a pink shirt with matching pink socks.

Oh nice! I'm speaking of the yellow blouse Virginia Thomas had her picture made in.

Mrs. Bell is a walking advertisement of her Home Economics department, she always looks as if she has just stepped out of a Hollywood salon.

A two-tone grey wool suit is worn becomingly by Peggy Moore.

Don't you think Bobby Foster looks darling in black, especially the taffeta dress she wore the day school pictures were made?

The football squad was decked out in jerseys for the Clarendon and Dumas games, they are purple with white numerals, white shoulders and three white stripes around the sleeves.

The members of the CHS Library Club decided to have a Hallowe'en Carnival Booth at their meeting Monday. They have not decided on anything definite, but several things are under consideration.

"Thanks" goes to Mrs. Ross Craig for coming after those journalism students who went down to proof read last Tuesday when it was so windy and dusty.

Decorations and noise makers for Hallowe'en at Warwick's.

Hallowe'en Brings Goblins & Things

Yes, gentlemen certainly prefer blonds. All the Hallowe'en candidates for queen are blonds or near blonds. Joanna Haines, the seniors' choice is decidedly in that list, while Merle Bullard, the juniors' choice is an Irish blond.

Dorothy McReynolds steps forth in a bid for queen honors, representing the sophomore class. Though the McReynolds girls have attended our school for some years, this is Dorothy's initial bow for royalty. She is one of our band twirlers this year.

Peggy Bonds, just recovering from a grueling initiation of last week, is the freshman candidate. She is following in the footsteps of her older sister, Ruby Lee, who was sophomore candidate last year. Peggy is blond and just the opposite in complexion from her big "Sis." This year she is class treasurer and sergeant-at-arms for the FFA.

For the third time in recent school history, a Ruthardt girl is nominated for Hallowe'en queen. Yes, it's Nora Dell. She is eighth grade nominee. In 1947 Anita was freshman candidate, and in 1948 Nelda received that honor. Nora Dell is an Irish blond and her blue eyes sparkle with the same vivacity that stamps the three sisters as eligible for the honor.

Ruth Ann Bolton is seventh grade candidate for Hallowe'en. She is entering junior high this year. This is the first one of the Bolton girls to enter this contest. Ruth Ann is a blond and thus fills out the entire list for the "fair maiden" qualifications.

Mickey King will be Jo Anna's escort while Merle has selected Richmond Payne. Dorothy picked Harold Slack; Peggy, Tommy Middleton; Nora Dell, Ted Lowe and Ruth Ann, Joe Dickerson.

Blow-Hard Seniors Exhale Hot Air

At least six of the industrious seniors now have better developed lungs from a little blowing spree Friday afternoon. After school they rushed over to Sue Jennings' house where they proceeded to inflate 132 balloons. Besides this, the "busy-bee" workers tied the balloons to sticks (which was rather hard on the fingers), went parading around town, and sold every last one.

The following composed the group: Martha Hales, Mary Elizabeth Jennings, Melva Martin, Sue Jennings, Charles Mobley and Travis Payne. Sales talk used was that the team would see the balloons, feel "real good" because of them, and make a whole bunch of touchdowns. Which they did.

A double purpose was served by the sale of the purple and white football balloons since both the Eagles and the senior class treasury were boosted. Beyond the material gain, however, was the satisfaction derived from the game that was turned in Friday night by the football team.

All in all, the seniors will agree it was time and effort well spent.

Committee Selects Six Cheer Leaders

Now the football boys will do 'super' playing with the CHS pep squad behind them. Cheer leaders are: Lorayne Carter, Bobby Ford, Katie Furlow, Barbara McDouglas, Travis Payne and Clyde Root. The pep squad will include the entire student body who will sit together in one section of the grandstand and will yell for the Eagles.

The presidents and vice-presidents of the classes chose the cheer leaders by the applause of the students after tryouts during the noon period last Thursday, in the Gym. Mr. Jim Scott, who was in charge of the occasion held his hand over the applicants and the audience applauded for the ones they wanted. These six were chosen.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

from COBBLING to MASS PRODUCTION

THE LOCAL COBBLER OF COLONIAL DAYS TOOK MANY HOURS TO MAKE A PAIR OF SHOES—FASHIONED THE LEFT AND RIGHT SHOE ALIKE.

SHOE MAKING REMAINED A HANDICRAFT UNTIL 1815, WHEN THOMAS BLANCHARD, A NEW ENGLANDER, INVENTED A LATHE FOR PRODUCING LASTS. BUT IT WAS NOT UNTIL THE ADAPTATION OF ELIAS HOWE'S SEWING MACHINE TO THE STITCHING OF SHOES IN THE LATE 1840S THAT THE BASIS OF THE MODERN SHOE MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY WAS ESTABLISHED.

TODAY, WITH IMPROVED MACHINES AND PROCESSES, THE INDUSTRY IN AMERICA PRODUCES MORE THAN 3000 PAIRS OF SHOES EVERY MINUTE...AN IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTION TO OUR HIGH STANDARD OF LIFE.

NO SCOTCH?

In order to get fresh produce the Maintenance Superintendent had a working agreement with a local farmer, who supplied him with three dozen eggs each week. One week the farmer found he had accidentally sent one egg too many. Determined not to lose on the deal, he called at the house. "Mr. Jones," he said, "I sent along one egg over the three dozen this week."

Maintenance Supt.: "Surely you're not going to worry over a little thing like that. Let's have a drink. What will you have?"

Farmer: "Eggnog!"

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is convinced that the farm vote in the Middle West is to be retained by the Democratic Party in 1950 on the basis that farmers can expect to get more Government benefits from a Democratic than a Republican Administration.

STILL ON ROUGH SIDE

It was two o'clock in the morning and from the downstairs living room came the second of blaring radio jazz, raucous shouts, and rippling peals of laughter. With some friends, Janie in that swank finishing school, was celebrating her summer release from school.

Dad raised a throbbing head from his pillow, stared with lackluster eye at his mate, and feebly remarked:

"You know, Mary, when we put Janie in that swank finishing school, there was one thing we forgot to ask them."

"What was that?" Mary sleepily inquired.

To which father cracked, "Whether they finish 'em rough or smooth."

$11,000 Given Plains Museum

Almost $11,000 in listed stock has been given to the Panhandle-Plains Museum in memory of James Lowry Smith and his wife, Marie Bynum Smith by Earl Cobb of Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Mr. Cobb began work for Smith, Walker, and Co. in 1899 and was with the firm in Amarillo and Canyon and later married a sister of Mrs. Smith. Mr. Smith, a pioneer merchant, banker and wholesale grocer, was a resident of Amarillo from 1888 to his death in 1927.

The James Lowry Smith and Marie Bynum Smith Fund has been set up by the executive committee of the Historical Society, from which the income will be to promote Panhandle-Plains history. Income of $400 is estimated per year.

Plans for the first contest to be conducted among students in public, private and parochial high schools have been announced with ten prizes offered to be divided equally among boys and girls. First prize will be $100; second $50; third $25; fourth, $15; and fifth, $10. Details of the contest will be handled by President James P. Cornette of WTSC and Boone McClure, director of the museum. Various high schools will be asked to enter the contest and suggestions on topics to be written about will be given.

Mr. Cobb's gift is the largest to be received by the Historical Society since it was organized 28 years ago. Secretary of the Society, Dr. L. F. Sheffy said that the Cobb gift in memory of the pioneer couple will be of great value in causing others to remember the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society in connection with memorial gifts.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Because he had been naughty Willie's mother had decreed that he should not go to the movies to see the usual Saturday afternoon western thriller. Willie however, had been studying current events at school and did not intend to give up without a struggle.

"You have no constitutional right to do this mother," he said. "Why not?" asked his parent. "Because you are exercising rule without consent of the governed."

Church Women To Observe World Community Day

On Tuesday, November 4 at 3:00 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, the Canyon Council of Church Women will observe World Community Day. Miss Elva Fronbarger will give a book review.

This will also be the day the dedication of the United Council's project of "Pieces for Peace" which is a project to provide cloth for the women of Europe and Asia so they can make with their own hands the clothing necessities for themselves and their families.

Each woman in Canyon is asked to bring her contribution of piece goods, woollens or prints, yarn floss, crocheted cotton, curtain materials, pieces for patchwork quilts and trimmings. All of these can be used by the people who have so little, and they will be appreciated so much. Wrap your bundle in a yard and a half of blue denim (for patching overalls), tie it securely, and take it to the Presbyterian Church where the dedication service is being held on World Community Day, November 4.

Those who prefer to give an offering of money are encouraged to do that. The money will be used to speed these bundles overseas, and to support a program for bringing displaced orphans to a home in America. Half of this offering will go toward continuing UCCW program in peace education and Christian world relations to advance this year's Community Day theme: "Peace Is Possible."

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

The traveling man's eyes bulged when he entered a small general store in a distant community and saw a dog, seated in a chair, pushing discs about on a board with his front paws.

"You mean to tell me," he inquired, "that your dog is playing checkers?"

"Sure," replied the proprietor. "I learned him."

"Why, man, do you know what you've got there?" asked the salesman. You could go into a vaudeville and clean up a fortune with a dog as smart as that."

"Oh, I don't know," sniffed the storekeeper. "He's not so smart. I beat him the last three games."

The mind can weave itself warmly in the cocoon of its own thoughts, and dwell a hermit anywhere.—J. B. Lowell.

Practice Fire Prevention in All 52 Weeks

This year's observance of Fire Prevention Week ran from October 6th to 15th. It will be tragic if the lessons learned during the week are immediately forgotten. Careless individual habits are responsible for all but a small minority of fires. Fire prevention must be practiced for 52 weeks of the year—not just for one.

During the first eight months of 1949, our fire waste totaled nearly $450,000,000. This marked a decline as compared with the same period last year, but most of the drop was probably due to slightly lower commodity and construction costs. Our fire record is the worst in the world, and it cannot adequately be measured in mere financial terms. It can be seen in the death and maiming and disfigurement of thousands upon thousands of human beings annually, many of them children—in the destruction of great forests and other invaluable natural resources—in lost jobs, in piles of ashes that once were homes, in ruined factories.

What makes this all the more disgraceful is that most fires can be so easily prevented. The major causes of fire are "little things"—carelessness with matches and cigarettes, running down stores and heating systems, improperly stored paints and solvents and other such flammables, out-of-repair electrical equipment, and so on down the list. A little thought, a little effort, could eliminate most of these hazards.

If, as individuals, we make every week a fire prevention week, we will win the war against this great destroyer.

Finally caught up with, an old criminal convicted of enough evil doing to keep him in the penitentiary for a hundred years, was being assigned his number by the warden.

"Can't you give me one that don't end in thirteen?" growled the prisoner. "I don't want to stick my neck out by inviting bad luck!"

DAFFY-NITION

"Dad, what do 'pro' and 'oon' mean?"

"Well, son, 'pro' is your convincing unanswerable argument, and 'oon' is the other fellow's contemptible drivel."

NEW IDEA

Our hope was that unification would have led before now to something sensational in high brass—say a general - admiral, with two chests to hold the ribbons.

IT IS, TOO

The Willoughbys, who lived in Chicago, had a new housekeeper. She wasn't very bright.

One night at dinnertime the telephone rang, and the new housekeeper hurried to answer. She listened and laughed and said, "It certainly is!" and hung up.

A few seconds later the phone rang again. The new housekeeper answered it, listened, laughed, said "It certainly is!" and hung up again.

"For goodness sake," bellowed Mr. Willoughby, "What's going on?" "Silliest darned thing," answered the new housekeeper. "Somebody keeps calling up just to say, 'It's Long Distance from New York.'"

EQUAL

"Too bad about Tom and the girl he's engaged to. Neither of them is good enough for the other."

"Where did you get that idea?" "I've been talking the matter over with both families."

Wayside Citizens Ask For Crossing On the Palo Duro

John T. McGehee of Wayside was here Saturday displaying a petition which was drawn by land owners in the Wayside area to the Commissioners Court of Armstrong county, which requested a bridge or all-weather crossing on the Palo Duro.

Several years ago the Hamblen Drive was built by Armstrong county, but this is washed out. As a result most of the people in this area have to drive through Canyon in order to reach their county seat.

An attempt is being made to interest the State Highway Department to take over this road and make it a state highway from Claude to Happy.

INSULT TO INJURY

Mpherson was strolling down the street when he noticed what he thought was the familiar figure of a friend. Quickening his steps, he came up to the man and slapped him on the back. To his amazement and confusion he then saw that he had greeted an utter stranger.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," he said apologetically, "I thought you were an old friend of mine. Mackintosh by name."

The stranger recovered his wind and replied with considerable heat: "And supposing I were Mackintosh, do you have to hit me so hard?"

"What do you care," retorted Macpherson, "how hard I hit Mackintosh?"

A READER TELLS THIS

"Two Irish girls became separated upon arrival in New York City, and did not see each other again until 20 years later, when they accidentally met one another on Main Street in Salt Lake City. It was then a case of Hello! Maggie, and Hello! Katie, sure 'tis fine you are looking. So you're married—Who did ye marry?"

I married a Hoghead on the Union Pacific. What's a Hoghead? An "engineer"! Sure, if you married a Hoghead, I must have married the Hog's Tail, because I married a conductor on the Oregon Short Line."

A SMART BOY

A young taxi driver made a terrific hit with two prominent women who are pushing 50.

Both are tall, slim, and extremely chic. So, when they got out of the cab, the young man remarked earnestly: "I want to say something, and I hope you'll take it the right way. I just want to tell you that it's a pleasure to have a couple of good-looking girls like you for passengers."

Then he added, with a sigh, "Honestly, I get tired of driving 'all those old dames past 40!'"
